Customer Reviews

I have finished reading the book and I'd have to say I'm very disappointed..... disappointed that it ended!!! Lol. I bet for a second there you might have lost your breath reading that lol. I had not bought books before. I've bought books because I had to, but never because I wanted to. Knowing the author was why I wanted to read it. I think knowing someone and reading something that someone you know wrote makes it intriguing. It puts it into reality whilst reading. If that makes sense. See when I read I vision. I vision the person writing it telling a story. Where as if I didn't know the author there would be no meaning to the words as I couldn't vision the person telling the story. Well to some extent there would be but not on the same level as knowing the author. The book took me on a journey that I would have to say drew me into a real reality of what everyone at some point would have to of had thought of before even just for a few seconds. If one person thinks about life like it's playing a video in one's head and someone actually writes a book about it then it must mean that more of us have had that thought. And the more you think about the amount of people walking around thinking the same thoughts really makes you think that maybe it is real what I'm thinking about how life works in my little head. It can't be just me and the person that wrote this book now can it?. I doubt it. I had a thought which pops into my head every now and then and it goes something like this ... If everyone that is alive and is able to speak at the same time asks for just one miracle then would it happen?. But every living soul that us able to speak has to say it at the same time otherwise it won't work.
